62nd Health Physics Society Annual Meeting

9–13 July 2017 - Raleigh, North Carolina

Jason Davis, CHP, PhD, Raleigh Task Force Chair
Jack Kraus, Program Committee Chair

The 2017 Health Physics Society (HPS) Annual Meeting in Raleigh is now behind us. What a great meeting in a great venue! Attendance at the meeting was 985—a wonderful turnout. The Program Committee's technical program was a success, as were each of our social events.

The Program Committee would like to thank everyone who attended the 62nd HPS Annual Meeting. We were pleased to offer 30 high-quality technical sessions with 177 oral presentations and 62 poster presentations. We look forward to seeing you at the 51st HPS Midyear Meeting, to be held in Denver, Colorado, 4–7 February 2018. See the call for papers on page 23 of this newsletter.

As Task Force Chair, I'd like to offer an extra thanks to the task force members who worked long hours to make this meeting such a success: Mike Mahathy, Tanya Oxenberg, Chris Shaw, Tim Taulbee, Zach Tribbett, Neil Whiteside, and Local Arrangements Committee Liaison Roger Sit.

This edition of the newsletter is filled with photos of these sessions and events and more. All meeting photos are courtesy of HPS Photographer Casper Sun unless otherwise indicated.
